

Elevate Women Action List

You have a right to personal happiness.

Elevate Womxn Collaborative believes in women power and in women supporting women. We, Elevate Women, have a lot to do for ourselves and for the world. But there is nothing to wait for. You can act today. Take action now to support another woman and at the same time serve yourself well. Here are suggestions to get you started. You can send us your ideas, too:

*Take a woman who isn't part of your usual crew to lunch. Leave your ego at home. Lead from the rear by listening more than speaking. This is not a time to talk about work. Dedicate yourself to the discovery of another woman's life experiences and her perspectives. Enjoy.

*Praise another woman. Never tear down another woman. Go the other way and let other people in your life hear you praise another woman. You are giving yourself a gift every time that you do. It feels good to offer positive remarks and elevate someone else.

*Share what you can with other women. You have skills, knowledge, life experiences, relationship experiences, assets and other resources and knowledge about where resources are located. Do it today.

*Give what you can regularly and often in talent shares, your knowledge, and donations to organizations that support women.

*Elevate your conversation by reading about women candidates for office, women-owned businesses, and local community projects that benefit women and children.
